

Deborah Bovarnick Mastin is an attorney, arbitrator and mediator. She was formerly an Assistant Broward County Attorney and for over 34 years was an Assistant Miami-Dade County Attorney. Her practice concentrates on construction law, and has included museums and performing arts centers, roadway improvements and public transit facilities, power, communications and utility plants and distribution corridors, $7 billion expansion at Miami International Airport and a $2 billion expansion at Ft. Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport. She has addressed issues and claims touching all aspects of project development and claims management. She is a Fellow of the American College of Construction Lawyers, a Florida Board Certified Construction lawyer, a Florida Certified Circuit Court Mediator and qualified arbitrator. Ms. Mastin is a member of the large complex commercial and construction panels of the American Arbitration Association and the International Centre for Dispute Resolution. Her publications include: "Managing the Risk of Building Defects" co-authored with Steven Charney, Construction Defects deskbook published by the American Bar Association; "Damages in Construction Litigation," Florida Civil Practice Damages, published by the Florida Bar; and articles on alternate dispute practices for complex construction projects. She is a member of the ABA Construction Forum Governing Committee, the ABA Dispute Resolution Section, the ABA Government and Public Sector Law Division, the Florida Bar Real Property Probate and Trust Law Section ADR Committee (Co-chair), the International Institute of Conflict Prevention and Resolution, the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, and is the President of the Dispute Resolution Board Foundation Region 1 (USA and Canada). She is rated "AV" by Martindale-Hubbell and "10" by AVVO. Ms. Mastin earned her J.D. at Northeastern University School of Law and S.B. at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.